Achieve Your Project Goals with Our Trusted Implementation Methodology

Every organization has unique HR and IT requirements. We bring our comprehensive implementation methodology to each project to ensure we meet them. It is built on the alignment of extensive HR knowledge, experience, and dedication to quality, allowing us to maximize best business practices. We utilize a proven roadmap to guide you through the challenging implementation of an HCM project, with flexibility to meet individual needs.

We believe there are two integral parts of our HR methodology that are critical to your implementation being successful:

Knowledge Transfer

It is essential for an organization to be self-sufficient. Our team will leave you with the knowledge to manage your own system. This knowledge transfer enables your users to take ownership of the system they helped design, as well as limit your dependency on outside support.

Change Management

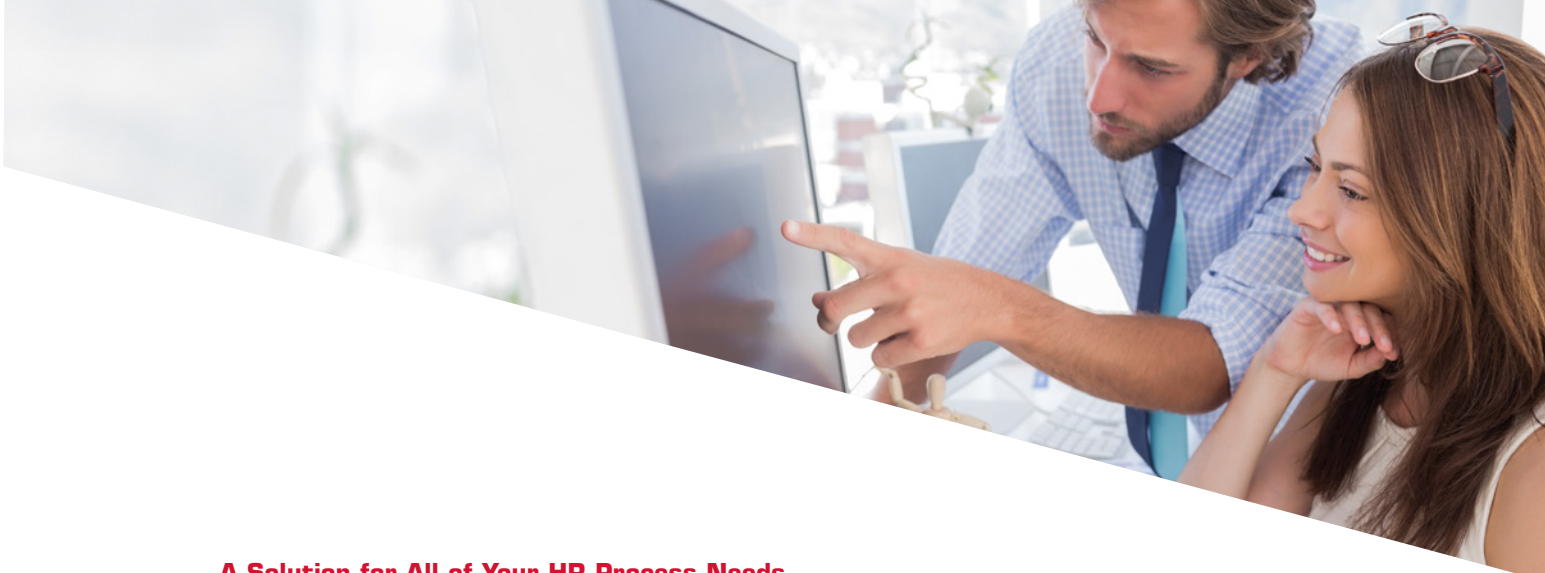

For most organizations the implementation of an HRIS system is an enormous change. We incorporate a clear change management plan early in the project to ensure communication to your end users. This allows your organization to embrace the technology required to enhance your daily business processes.

Whether you are recruiting new talent or managing an existing team, intelligence can help you meet objectives while maximizing your SAP investments.
